Originating from Italian natural sources, ACQUA MORELLI is mountain water from the "Alpi Marittime" in Italy, distinguished by its particularly low mineral content. The source, discovered in the 18th century, is situated in a picturesque beech forest at an altitude of approximately 1,000 meters. Exceptional freshness directly from the Bauda spring. ACQUA MORELLI takes about 75 years to flow through numerous layers of rock before surfacing. At 1,000 meters above sea level, it reveals the unique characteristics of this premium mineral water - original, fresh, and of a very special purity.

SPRING WATER

The story of Harrogate Spring Water began in 1571, when Harrogate's first mineral spring was discovered by William Slingsby. Over 450 years later, it continues to bring the essence of Harrogate to life. The Water comes from an underground beneath the Harrogate Pinewoods, an area rich with ancient oak woodlands and moorland that support a diverse range of flora and fauna, including rare species. The water is practically free of nitrates and nitrites, which is due to the purity of the soil and the surrounding catchment area. It takes years for the water to filter through layers of rock before reaching the aquifer, about 50 meters below the surface. Along the way, it naturally enriches itself with minerals, creating a refreshing, perfectly balanced drink.

ÅRE WATER

The ÅRE Source offers natural mineral water with beneficial effects for the body. Bottled on-site in Åre, the water is sourced from a certified groundwater reservoir in Northern Sweden. The low nitrate levels ensure its purity, and the water is labeled "Superior." Efforts to maintain sustainability include using self-pressured pumps and renewable energy. The alpine landscape provides natural filtration through rock and sand layers dating back to the ice age, resulting in a high oxygen saturation. Due to its limited production, ÅRE Water is only available in select restaurants, hotels, and deli stores worldwide.
